SOCIETY NEWS

The chief executive of the nation is to launch the Washington social season this week with a brilliant reception. Notwithstanding the fact that Mrs. Taft is not to return and open the White House until late in October, the executive mansion will be the scene of the reception and garden party. President Taft himself will do the honors on this occasion instead of designating a member of his cabinet to act for him as he did recently. The event will be in compliment to the delegates to the International Congress on Hygiene and Demography. It promises to be a brilliant affair, for the delegates include many of the most distinguished physicians and scientists of the world, many of whom will be accompanied to this country by their wives.

There were few large affairs on the tapis the past week, although several informal events made the days exceedingly pleasurable. Friday evening a picnic held place on the calendar, the desert being the rendezvous. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Homer King, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace Craig, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Myers, Mrs. W. J. Kingsbury, Mrs. L. H. Sheldon, Mrs. J. E. Rowlands, Miss Irene Pease, R. E. Masson, Francis Vele, George H. Walbridge, Joe Casson, Alexander Baker, Hugh Marshall, R. H. Horrell, Reese Ling and Harry R. Trille.

Mrs. J. D. Wakely was the motif for a charming luncheon Wednesday when Mrs. F. H. Hildreth, of the McDowell road, entertained in her honor. Quantities of long stemmed American Beauty roses made an artistic table decoration. Auction was played in the afternoon. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Hildreth's hospitality were Mrs. Wakely, Mrs. J. W. Crenshaw, Mrs. Harry Kay, Mrs. Evans-Darby, Mrs. Edward Shaw, Mrs. Jarvis Lobitt, and Mrs. Joe Green.

An interesting visitor in Phoenix this winter will be Bob Chanler, former sheriff of King's county, New York, artist, club man, but better known perhaps as the divorced husband of Lina Cavallieri. Mr. Chanler is at present sketching in Tuba City.

Francis Vele was a dinner host of the week, entertaining at the Adams Tuesday evening. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace Craig, Mrs. W. J. Kingsbury, Mrs. J. E. Rowlands, Miss Kitty Craig, Miss Irene Pease, George H. Walbridge and R. E. Masson.

Mrs. James H. McClintock, with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Homer P. Lewis, recently arrived in New York from a six months' absence abroad. They had a delightful crossing on the "Rix-don." Mrs. McClintock having thoroughly recovered from an illness of last winter, was active in the gaiety and many events are being planned in her compliment prior to her return to Arizona the latter part of October. She will be the guest of the Lewises at their home in Worcester, Massachusetts, tour Connecticut and conclude her visit with a few weeks in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Page, of North Fourth avenue, are passing the week in Los Angeles.

Mrs. L. H. Sheldon and her daughter, Miss Irene Pease, of Tucson, are the guests of Mrs. W. J. Kingsbury, of Tempe.

In honor of her cousin, Miss Mildred Wolf, who returned to San Francisco Wednesday after a delightful month's visit here, Miss Seldie Meyers, of 801 North Second street, gave a prettily appointed dinner Monday evening. A bowl of American Beauty roses was the table's centerpiece and had painted cards marked places for Miss Wolf, Mrs. D. D. Northrop, Mrs. Emma Todd, Mrs. Adolf Hirschberg, Miss Kathryn Miller, Miss Ethel Shoemaker, Miss Tessie Johnston, Miss Lottie Wyatt, Miss Sam Morris, Miss Mabel McNeil, Miss Gertrude Hannon, Miss Agnes Monson, Miss Anna Monahan, Miss Anna May Daley, Miss

Sue Murphy and Miss Helen Pepper.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis Dysart, of 90 Westmoreland street, and their guest, Ensign Arthur S. Dysart, left Friday for a camping trip to Roosevelt. They will be absent until Wednesday.

Miss Tessie Johnston, of San Francisco, is the guest of Miss Ethel Shoemaker, of 813 North Third avenue.

Mrs. J. D. Wakely, who passed a fortnight with her sister, Mrs. F. H. Hildreth, of McDowell Road, left Thursday for Prescott where she passed a few days en route for her home in Oklahoma. Mrs. Wakely was the recipient of much social attention during her stay in town.

Mr. and Mrs. George Halm, of North Central avenue, returned Wednesday from Long Beach where they summered. Their son, Arthur Halm, is completing his education at Stanford University.

Mrs. A. K. Stacy left Sunday evening for California after a week's stay in town. She will pass another month on the coast chaperoning her daughter, Miss Mildred Stacy, who is a great favorite with the Los Angeles smart set. The Stacys have taken the Spaulding residence on North Sixth street for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. King and the latter's father, Major Richard Wimpsey, returned Thursday from Prescott where they passed six weeks.

Mrs. Augustus Redewill and Miss Alice Redewill are scheduled to return Tuesday from a summer at Catalina.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Dorris, of West Jefferson street, will entertain at dinner early in the week Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dorris and their guests. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Cook, who arrived Thursday after a four months' absence passed in a motor tour of Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woolsey, of North Central avenue are planning an eastern trip for early in October. On their return they will be accompanied by Leon and Jonathan Woolsey, of New York, who will be their guests this winter.

Mrs. Webster Street left Wednesday for Los Angeles after a brief stay in town. She will return the latter part of October for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. Louis Melzer and Mrs. Joseph Melzer returned Friday from Los Angeles where the Summerfield-Melzer wedding occurred Sunday. Miss Selma Goldberg, who went over for the event will remain indefinitely.

"One table of auction," much in vogue in the spring is again a favorite form of amusement. Mrs. C. W. Myers, of North Third avenue, had as guests Wednesday, a group who played the first of a series of games to be enjoyed this autumn. Mrs. Homer King, Mrs. L. H. Sheldon and Mrs. W. J. Kingsbury.

J. E. Rowlands has returned from a month's stay in Detroit, Chicago and Omaha.

Mrs. Howard Reed, of North First avenue returned Wednesday from a delightful summer in Boston.

Tea Table Chat

Sidney P. Osborn, secretary of state, has been recalled. His was the first name on the all too short list of eligible bachelors and Tuesday evening it was wiped off the slate. With the exception of a very few of their most intimate friends the marriage of Marjorie Grant to the young official came as a complete surprise, no formal announcement of Mrs. Sims Ely will return this morning from Glendale, California, where she with her daughter, Miss Helen Ely, passed the heated term. Miss Ely will remain on the coast for a short period.

Notable among the past week's pleasures was the Leap Year dance given by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pepper in honor of their daughter, Miss Helen Pepper. The Pepper residence on North Central avenue was decorated in a profusion of roses and the porch, where refreshments were served, was lent added attractions in the artistic arrangement of potted plants and cut flowers. The guest list included Miss Pepper, Miss Kathryn Miller, Miss Seldie Meyers, Miss Sue Murphy, Miss Gertrude Hannon, Miss Anna Mae Daley, Miss Vera Bigley, Miss Lila Pepper, Miss Ursula Weber, Harry Hurley, Charles J. McElroy, Lee Starling, Al Page, Arthur B. Clark, Andrew Jamison, Edward Ames, Lee Bigley and E. P. Vallet.

Miss Martha Garnett and Miss Anne Garnett, of 619 North Third avenue, closed the week's gayety Saturday afternoon when they gave an informal tea in compliment to Mrs. Reba Elliot and Miss Grace Neill. The living room was attractively decorated in a pink and white color scheme, effected by a profusion of roses. The dining room was in red roses and greenery. Asked to meet Mrs. Elliot and Miss Neill were Mrs. Newland Jones, Mrs. W. W. Greene, Mrs. W. E. Sargent, Mrs. A. L. Moore, Mrs. Harry Tierce, Mrs. C. D. Robinson, Mrs. W. E. Defty, Mrs. T. L. Trentum, Mrs. Earl Curtis, Miss Kate Christy, Miss Robinson and Miss Nell Blount.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Strait of North Tenth avenue were hosts of an informal dance recently. Among others there were present Mrs. J. C. Clanton, Mrs. G. Duncan, Miss Grace Evans, Miss Stella Gibson, Miss Leonore Carr, Miss Ethel Thomas, Miss Lillian Thomas, Miss E. Deaton, Miss Strait, Stover Isaacs, A. L. Strait, Jr., William King, Frank Murphy and Robert Strait.

Mrs. A. W. Morrill of 348 West Portland street, has returned from a three months' absence in the east. She has as guest her mother, Mrs. A. P. McCormick of Dallas, who will pass the winter here.

Mrs. Henry George of 621 North First avenue will return this morning from Prescott where she summered.

Mrs. Barry Goldwater a popular member of the Phoenix contingent that passed the summer in Prescott, has returned. Miss Beth Goldwater of San Francisco, who was such a favorite here three years ago, will visit the Barry Goldwaters later in the season.

Mrs. C. H. Akers of North Central avenue will return this morning from San Diego.

Mrs. George H. N. Luhrs, Miss Ella Luhrs and Miss Emma Luhrs returned Monday from Ocean Park.

Mrs. H. P. DeMund and Miss Fay DeMund of 647 North Second avenue, returned Tuesday from Prescott where they passed a fortnight, after a summer at the Virginia in Long Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. Harrison E. Stroud have returned to Los Angeles after a ten days' stay in town.

Miss Grace Neill of Lynn, Massachusetts, is the guest of Miss Anne Garnett of 619 North Third avenue.

declare dramatically that "never will my shadow darken the portals of the Breakers."

As yet there has been no word from Melville Ellis, who went down to "put on the show" for the Schuberts. When Mr. Ellis' friends in Phoenix hear his version they will undoubtedly be generous enough to give it to the interested public.

The event, which has created quite a stir on the Great White Way, was a production of "The Merry Countess" for the Vanderbilt guests at the Breakers. The production was a success for the audience, but the performers allude to it as a bitter frost. They are going about saying in hushed tones that they were met at the station, carefully herded past the front of the house and were ushered through the kitchen into their dressing rooms.

Some of the Thespians were inclined to treat this as a joke at first. A comedian began to hum, "Carefully on tiptoe stealing," as he glided along back hallways, but his outburst was quickly hushed. The prima donna was led to a bathroom for a dressing room. Her indignation at this outrage was such that she kept the curtain waiting a whole hour.

Members of the company say that after the performance they were so frugally fed that they went away hungry. They had expected to mingle with the elite of Newport, but all they saw of society was across the footlights.

Newport ought to beware. Some of the fair members of "The Merry Countess" company may marry into the European aristocracy one of these days, and then they may retaliate by shutting the gates of their husband's ancestral halls in the faces of Newport. One never knows what may happen in the case of a stage star.

Everyone will be glad to know that after all Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peabody (Escher Willis) are to be here this winter. This, you remember, was their original intention and then came word that Mr. Peabody, who is connected with the reclamation service, was to be transferred to Los Angeles. The report was not authentic and the Peabodys followed by a fortnight in Yosemite, will return to Phoenix. They are to be domiciled in one of those attractive apartments on Fourth Avenue, now in course of construction.

"You can count on me" fellow is going to receive a severe jolt this winter if the girls have anything to say about it. And because they think they've done more than their share of entertaining and it's time

Our Exclusive Selections In the New Browns and Greys

This season Fashion has set her especial stamp of approval on Browns and Greys for smart men's wear.

We were particularly fortunate in securing some of the rarest Adler-Rochester models in these modish shades.

Delightful Browns, soft in color, yet with a richness of effect only to be found in woollens such as the Adler-Rochester tailoring commands.

Medium and dark Greys, called by someone "the dependable color for a gentleman."

ADLER-ROCHESTER CLOTHES

We have all these new fabrics and some exclusive Adler-Rochester patterns and mixtures.

Perhaps you have not seen that almost daring, yet unobtrusive combination of deep Brown sprinkled with the new Red.

The fastidious tailoring of these superb clothes is too well-known to need description.

The prices leave no excuse for wearing less becoming clothes.

Browns and the New Mixtures from $20.00 to $45.00
Dependable Greys $20.00 to $40.00

Club Notes

Since the exclusive announcement giving an illuminating talk on Woman's Suffrage. The Pirates of Penzance, Gilbert and Sullivan's opera, that is having such a popular revival in Europe and the United States will be presented by the Arizona School of Music this winter. The Arizona School of Music opened its ninth season the past week with an enrollment greatly exceeding that of any previous year. The new department of primary training gives every evidence of being popular under the direct supervision of Mrs. Luther Steward, who has made a close study of the best present-day methods in kindergarten and primary work.

The Glendale Woman's Club gave its annual reception to the public school teachers of Glendale Friday evening at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Hammels, acting president of the club. An address of welcome, an appreciative response and a brief musical program were features of the evening. On Saturday evening the gardens that surround the Hammels' residence were again the scene of a brilliant gathering when an impromptu mass meeting was held. Laura Gregg Cannon

A study of the British Isles and a course in the Bayview magazine is the work that has been outlined for Chapter A of P. E. O., organized last spring and already a strong factor among women's organizations. The initial meeting of the season will be held Tuesday, October 8, at the residence of Mrs. Cora Kimber, of 330 South First avenue. Mrs. N. T. McKee, of 1322 West Monroe street, entertained the members Tuesday evening, when a social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. Mary Gall, of the Indian school, gave an interesting talk on "Work Among the Indians" at the regular weekly meeting of the W. C. T. U. on Thursday afternoon. A young people's branch of the union is to be established here early in December, when Miss Mosher, the national organizer, visits the local association.

DOUBTFUL

Jones, having acquired an automobile, had an accident the first time out. Instead of diving under the car, he stood clami out in the road, reading his driver's license. "What do you do that for?" testily inquired the friend whom he had invited for a spin. "Well, it says I am competent to run this machine, and I like to read it over."—Woman's Home Companion.

The Paris CLEANERS

Women addicted to "high society" habits are undesirable life insurance risks in the eyes of leaders in the American Life convention.

All other women are approaching a stage of social, economic and financial independence which is causing them to be considered equally as good risks as men.

Self-supporting women, in domestic and industrial trades, particularly, are winning favor with insurance companies and their risk already is classified as safer than most men. Their mortality rate is much lower.

President Gold said: "Women who live the so-called high life have a hard time getting insurance on their lives. Companies do not want to take them. They eat such indigestible food, drink so many harmful beverages that their systems soon are wrecked and they go the quick route to the grave."

Members of the "Merry Countess" company, collectively and individually, are vowing to cut off aristocratic Newport from their visiting list. Prima donna and chorus girl alike
